

MAY 23 - 25, 2017 SUSAN HARPER CHAPEL HILL, NC CONTINUUM MOVING INQUIRY WORKSHOP

MOVING INQUIRY

awaits those who love to inquire, who dare to listen at the edge and in the depths, who are aware of the adventure of courting the unknown.

Come participate in the journey of who you are becoming, dissolve what is no longer needed, and allow for the emergence of something utterly new.

SPIRIT OF INQUIRY

We attend the art of discovery through movement, and the art of inquiry in how we perceive, and make meaning.

We explore to loosen the grip of identity.

The primacy of the human heart to love and be loved, and the depths of imagination are explored here.

Life is precious, calling us to cherish the opportunity to incarnate - to live in a sensual body made of light, earth and space, dreams, and meaning. With curiosity, we listen to sensation rich feelings as we dare to love, weep, laugh, and meet the splendor and terrible beauty that the river of life delivers.

WHAT WILL WE DO?

In exploratory 'dives', we refine our ability to sense intrinsic movements, and the fluid forces of creation, to guide our creative unfolding. We transform through gentle breathing, primordial vocalizing, and engage a multi-faceted movement range that is soulful, dynamic and subtle. These are creative contexts of awakening in which we melt into Awareness and restore in spacious Silence.

SUSAN HARPER opens portals of exploratory consciousness. She has the ability through demonstration of sounds, breaths, and movement to transmit a primal and spiritual fluidity that inspires participation resulting in embodied innovative discoveries. She teaches internationally and has been contributing to Continuum since 1975, and is the developer of Body of Relating and Body of Perception Trainings. Hubert Godard, Michael Meade, and Lama Drimed inspire her in this theme. Rebecca Lawson will teach in this workshop.
